

Journal of Fandom Studies

Volume 3 Number 3

Journal of Fandom Studies | Volume 3 Number 3

	Editorial	291–302	The fan and the female superhero in comic books CARYN E. NEUMANN AND LORI L. PARKS
239–240	Thematic issue: Comic book women in the Journal of Fandom Studies CARYN E. NEUMANN	303–324	The Adventures of Ms. Meta : The female superhero and her cultural importance SARAH ZAIDAN
	Articles		Reviews
241–257	Who’s messing with Jane?: Graphic novels and the Jane Austen fan LEIGH ANNE HOWARD	325–326	Time on TV: Temporal Displacement and Mashup Television , Paul Booth (2012)
259–275	Misogynoir and antiblack racism: What The Walking Dead teaches us about the limits of Speculative Fiction fandom DOMINIQUE DEIRDRE JOHNSON	327–329	The Ashgate Research Companion to Fan Cultures , Kinda Duits, Koos Zwaan, and Stijn Reinders (2014)
277–290	Savage sexism: Examining gendered intelligence in Hulk and She-Hulk comics ELIZABETH SETTODUCATO	333	Index

Journal of Fandom Studies

Volume 3 Number 3

ISSN 2046-6692

9 772046 669008 33

intellect | www.intellectbooks.com

intellect